

LUTHER ASKELAND PUBLICATIONS

Books:

- 1997 Ways in Mystery: Explorations in Mystical Awareness and Life (book collection consisting of one longer monograph and six articles from 1988-96, most of the material being previously unpublished elsewhere). White Cloud Press, Ashland, OR.

Articles and Essays on Philosophy and Religion:

- 1984 "Silence," in North Country Anvil, No. 46.
1990 "The God in the Moment," in Cross Currents, Vol. 40, No. 4.
1991 "On Words and Mindfulness," in Cross Currents, Vol. 41, No. 3.
1993 "In the Many Mansions of Eckhart's God," in Continuum, Vol. 2, Nos. 2&3.
1993 "Nobody Know my Name," in Cross Currents, Vol. 43, No. 3.

Articles on Indian Philosophy and Religion Accompanied by New Translations of Sanskrit Texts:

- 1996 "That in the Lightning Which," an introduction to and translation of Kena Upanishad, in Studia Mystica, Vol. XVII, 2.
2002 "Origin and Nature of the Great Illusion: An Introduction to and Translation of Shankara's Analysis of Transference," in The Psychoanalytic Review, Volume 89, Number 1.
2003 "What You Must Know is That: A Translation of Mandukya Upanishad with an Explanatory Essay," in Studia Mystica Volume XXIV, 2003.

Articles on My Work:

- 2003 John Schlenck, "A Western Approach to Shankara," (article on my 2002 article on Shankara) in American Vedantist, Volume 8, No. 4.

Miscellaneous Publications:

- 1971 "The Quest Sonata" (short story). First published in Minnesota Review and later anthologized in Best Little Magazine Fiction 1971 (New York University Press).
1972-76 Four book reviews on Scandinavian literature and literary criticism published in academic journals.
1996 "Why Citizens are Cynical about Government," essay published in The St. Croix Review, Volume XXIX, No. 4.